Antiquities of the Jews Book One 4:2

(Whiston Translation)

Now it was Nimrod who excited them to such an affront and contempt of God. He was the grandson of Ham, the son of Noah, a bold man, and of great strength of hand. He persuaded them not to ascribe it to God, as if it were through his means they were happy, but to believe that it was their own courage which procured that happiness.

He also gradually changed the government into tyranny, seeing no other way of turning men from the fear of God, but to bring them into a constant dependence on his power. He also said he would be revenged on God, if he should have a mind to drown the world again; for that he would build a tower too high for the waters to reach. And that he would avenge himself on God for destroying their forefathers.

Jubilees 10:1-14

(RHCV, R.H. Charles Version)

And in the third week of this jubilee the unclean demons began to lead astray the children of the sons of Noah, and to make to err and destroy them. And the sons of Noah came to Noah their father, and they told him concerning the demons which were leading astray and blinding and slaying his sons' sons. And he prayed before the Lord his God, and said: (Continued...)

Testament of Reuben 5:1

(RHCVKJ, R.H. Charles Translation, Edited by Ken Johnson, Th.D.)

My children, ungodly women hurt you not by strength, but by subtle enticement. They hide who they really are and make you see what they want you to see. They cannot overcome you by strength, so they overcome you by craft.

An Angel of God told me that fornication overcomes ungodly women more than men. They devised schemes to seduce men. They deceive the man's mind through their adornment and still poisoned by the glance of their eye, and capture him by their actions. (Continued...)

Therefore, flee fortification, my children command your wives and daughters not to adorn their heads and faces. Because every woman who acts deceitfully in these things is destined for everlasting punishment. This is how they seduce the watchers before the flood. They appeared constantly in their presence this way until the watchers fell for them. They changed their form to that of men and came to the women. (Continued...)

The ungodly women planned for this to happen because they desired heavenly husbands. Then they gave birth to Nephilim.
